Participation in the Plenary Session of the World Business Council for Sustainable Development

Komatsu has participated in WBCSD (World Business Council for Sustainable Development) activities since FY2010. The major purpose of the WBCSD (established 1995) is for CEO class executives from the 175 companies across the world to proactively advance environmental policies to create an international free competitive market. Currently, Japan has 16 member companies and the WBCSD Secretariat plans to increase the number of member companies in the future. Komatsu participated in the plenary session held in Montreux, Switzerland in April 2013 and is thinking and acting on ways to realize a sustainable society.
